

CAN'T KEEP CARLISLE
FROM BOND SALES.KNIGHTS OF LABOR LOSE THEIR CASE.

Arguments Made Before Judge Cox in the Application for an Injunction but Petition Is Overruled—The Issue Is Held to Be Perfectly Legal.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Judge Cox today denied the injunction sought by the Knights of Labor. The arguments were heard yesterday on the application of Grand Master Workman Sovereign and T. B. McGuire of the Knights of Labor, for an injunction to restrain Secretary Carlisle from issuing $50,000,000 bonds as proposed in his recent bond circular. Judge Cox reserved his decision, and announced that to-day or Wednesday he would state his conclusion in the case.

In the afternoon General Secretary McGuire of the Knights of Labor obtained from the Supreme court of the District of Columbia a subpoena addressed to the marshal of the district, directing him to serve the same upon the secretary of the treasury, citing him to appear and make answer to the bill asking for an injunction. In case Judge Cox's decision be adverse to the petitioners and an appeal cannot be taken to the Supreme court of the United States in time to prevent the issue of bonds, the bill will be amended so as to prevent the payment of interest thereon.

Work of the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—In the house yesterday Mr. Burrows (rep.) of Michigan asked that unanimous consent be given members who had amendments which they desired to offer to the tariff bill and which they had no opportunity to offer to print them in the Record.

Mr. McMillin (dem.) of Tennessee objected, saying that if the amendments could not be offered in the house they should not cumber the Record.

Messrs. Burrows and Reed appealed to Mr. McMillin to withdraw his objection, but he persisted.

At 11:15 the house went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill, with Mr. Richardson (dem., Tenn.) in the chair, and Mr. McMillin (dem., Tenn.) offered an amendment to the tariff bill the internal revenue bill, including the income tax feature. The bill was read in full. Immediately afterward Mr. McMillin, who has charge of the bill, addressed the committee in its support of the income tax.

If it was insisted that income should not be taxed, Mr. McMillin asked where the deficiency created by the bill should come from. The natural tendency he said was to shift the burdens of taxation, and for almost a lifetime no effort has been made to get at the enormous wealth of the country to tax it. The result had been the accumulation of colossal fortunes the like of which had never been known in any other age of any country of the world. If one class of citizens can be more interested in a government than another, the affluent are. They have more wealth to defend; they have more of the luxuries of life to be deprived of—liberty is as sweet to them as to those in the humblest walks of life—and it should be not simply the duty but it should be the pleasure of people who are greatly blest to perpetuate those blessings for their children. He believed that the salutary effects that will flow from this legislation, outside of the justice that is in it, are sufficient to justify us in trying the experiment.

The advantages to be derived from the adoption of the income tax Mr. McMillin declared to be (1) that it would do away with class jealousies, and class prejudices, and class distinctions by making absolute equality between all citizens of the whole country; (2) that in proportion to accumulation the taxes would be contributed to the support of the government; (3) that by fixing the tariff at a low rate of duty and meeting the fluctuating deficiency in the treasury by regulating the internal revenue would give a stability to values that could be secured in no other way; and (4) that it will tend to curb extravagance of expenditure which leads to an increase of tariff taxes.

Mr. Ray (rep., N. Y.) then took the floor. He asserted that the existing business depression was not due to protection or to the McKinley bill but to the fear of the Wilson bill. The income tax, he said, was the twin sister of free trade. If the McKinley bill were to be retained, within twenty-four hours after the edict went forth, prosperity would smile again and the hum of industry would be heard through the land.

Mr. Tarsney (dem., Mo.) was next recognized and eloquently defended the income tax, and said that the poor people had borne the burdens so long it was time that taxes were equalized.

Mr. Dinsmore (dem., Ark.) next spoke briefly but earnestly in favor of the income tax.

Mr. Daniels (rep., N. Y.) spoke in opposition to the bill. This was the first time in the history of the government when a revenue bill was constructed which intentionally failed to provide for the necessities of the government.

Mr. Hall (dem., Mo.) the originator of the income tax proposition, delivered a strong and earnest plea in favor of it. It had been denounced as a demagogic measure; but if there was one means of throwing down demagoguery it was an income tax.

Mr. Covert (dem., N. Y.) said he thought the Wilson bill was just as objectionable as it came from the hands of the committee as it was with the income tax amendment. It was evident that the tariff bill was framed with the intention of making an income tax necessary, and they were told that they who do not favor an income tax must vote for it in order to provide partially for the deficit. He declared his opposition to the income tax was based on the ground that it was undemocratic. He did not like the Wilson bill because it did not accord with his views of tariff reform and because it made an income tax necessary.

Mr. Kilgore (dem., Texas) was the first speaker in the evening. He devoted his remarks largely to a defense of the Walker tariff act of 1846.

Mr. McDannold (dem., Ill.) asserted that the tariff tax was as inquisitorial and as conducive to perjury as an income tax, as was shown by the investigation of the baggage of incoming passengers at the docks of the large transatlantic steamers.

The other speakers were Stockdale (dem., Miss.), Lynch (dem., Wis.), and Williams (dem., Miss.).

The Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The house bill to repeal the federal election laws was taken up in the senate yesterday and Mr. Chandler (rep., N. H.) continued and finished his speech in opposition to it.

Mr. Call (dem., Fla.) offered a resolution, which went over, instructing the committee on civil service to inquire and report whether the civil service commission has been influenced in the performance of its official duties by money, or inducement of free travel, or other corrupt means by corporations, syndicates or trusts; also to what extent the newspaper press is maintained or subsidized by railroad, banking and other corporations, and as to various other matters affecting the railroad corporations with elections to office.

Mr. Dolph (rep., Ore.) presented a protest against the passage of the Wilson tariff bill. He also presented resolutions of an assembly of wool growers at Salem, Ore., against free wool.

The senate proceeded to the consideration of the executive business and at 6 p. m. adjourned.

Dole's Reply to Willis.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The answer of President Dole to Minister Willis' demand for detailed replies to the allegations made in the letter which Mr. Dole refused to withdraw has been received at the state department. This is the answer to the letter which President Cleveland termed "most extraordinary" in transmitting it to congress and it is likely that when the answer is sent in it will be accompanied by some special remarks. Letters from Minister Willis were received by Saturday's mail and these with the Dole document will go to congress in a day or two, probably to-morrow.

Doubts Carlisle's Authority.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Mr. Stewart (rep., Nev.) offered yesterday in the senate a resolution declaring that in the judgment of the senate the secretary of the treasury is not at this time clothed, under existing law, with any legal authority to issue and sell the bonds and other interest bearing obligations of the government. He said that he should like to have a vote on the resolution. The bonds were about to be issued. It was a mooted question; and it seemed to him that the senate ought at least to express an opinion one way or the other. He therefore gave notice that he would call up the resolution this morning.

Official Advice from Rio.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—United States Minister Thompson, at Rio, is known to have been in active communication with the state department during the past few days. The navy department also has some important dispatches from Admiral Benham. Nothing can be learned of the nature of the contents, but it is believed here that the Rio reports of efforts toward an amicable settlement are correct.

Nothing New Transpires.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Dr. William Shaw Bowen, correspondent of a New York paper, was yesterday before the senate committee investigating the Hawaiian affair, but, with the exception of denying some statements, of a personal nature, made by Mr. Blount, threw no light on the overthrow of Liliuokalani.

Resolutions on Hawaii.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Under the call of committees for reports in the house yesterday Mr. McCreary, the chairman of the foreign affairs committee, reported his resolution expressing the sense of the house on the Hawaiian situation. The minority were given leave to submit their views.

Are Candidates for a Senatorship.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—It is reported here by congressmen who profess to know that J. W. Doane and L. Z. Leiter have positively decided to become candidates for the democratic nomination for United States senator from Illinois to succeed Callom.

No Action on Peckham.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The senate judiciary committee adjourned without taking any action on the nomination of Mr. Peckham to be associate justice of the United States Supreme court.

Frank Greenwell of Ogden, Utah, was arrested for bigamy at Oakland, Cal.

MINERS TO STARVE
UNLESS THEY YIELDMILITIA TO ENFORCE PEACE
AROUND MANSFIELD.

Today Things Are Quiet and the Owners Are Inclined to Think the Worst of the Trouble Is Over—Many Foreigners Augment the Disturbance Around Bridgeville.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 30.—Soldiers are to be kept on guard in the Mansfield district until the rioters are starved into submission. All is quiet to-day at the Essen and Bradling mines. None of the mad threats of the strikers were attempted at these points, and if there had been, the perfect organization of the deputies, re-enforced by the citizens' guard, would have made short work of the horde. Deputies are still guarding the various mines, but no trouble is expected to-day. Special precautions were taken this morning while the miners were assembling for work lest they be attacked by the rioters.

Sheriff Richards has started for Bridgeville, where he will serve a number of warrants for the arrest of rioters. Armstrong's Woodville mine started at 3 o'clock this morning with non-union men under the protection of deputy sheriffs. An attempt will be made to start other mines during the day. A mass-meeting of the striking miners will be held at Mansfield the object of which is not yet known. A large force of deputies will also attend the meeting, prepared to suppress any lawlessness in its incipency. Sheriff Cherry of Washington county is at McDonald with a force of deputies, and is now in communication with Deputy Lowry, who is in charge of the Allegheny county deputies, harmonizing the movements of the forces of the two counties.

It is reported that the 4,500 strikers on the Montour railroad are assembling at Imperial and will march across the country, six miles, to attend the mass meeting at Mansfield. All of these men are said to be foreigners who are rallying to the aid of the riotous element in the Mansfield valley. Deputy Sheriffs Pasco and Young, with five men, went to Toms Run mine and arrested twenty-two participants in Saturday's riots. Only one of the men offered resistance.

Mansfield is rapidly filling up with foreigners of all types and nationalities, many of whom wear red mufflers around their necks and give other manifestations of anarchism.

OPEN WAR ON CATHOLICS.

A. P. A. Demand that They Be Boycotted by Political Committees.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 30.—A committee of the A. P. A. called on the democratic city committee yesterday and made a formal demand that no Catholics be allowed places on the city ticket at the election this spring. The committee took the matter under consideration, but no one believes that it will accede to the demand. A similar demand is to be made on the republicans.

Satelli to Be Succeeded by Ireland.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 30.—A St. Louis priest with a charge near the center of the city has received a letter from a friend at Rome confirming the information that Archbishop Satelli is to be relieved of his duties as Apostolic delegate and to be appointed Archbishop of Bologna at the next consistory, and adding that Archbishop Ireland is to succeed Archbishop Satelli as Apostolic delegate.

Deadlock in Mississippi Continues.

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 30.—The democratic senatorial caucus is still in a deadlock. The last ballot resulted as follows: Campbell, 29; McLaurin, 44; Taylor, 36; Lowry, 27. Lowry gained more votes than any other candidate. The caucus adopted a resolution to hold only night sessions in future.

Seat the Republican.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Jan. 30.—The house committee on the Jackson county contested elections has unanimously agreed on a report seating W. M. Stephens, the republican contestant, instead of A. W. Richardson, the democrat incumbent. On a recent Stephens had 34 majority.

HAS DE GAMA QUIT
THE STRUGGLE?BRAZILIAN WAR SAID TO HAVE BEEN ENDED.

The Rothschilds of London Receive Word that Hostilities Are Over—American Ships Called Upon to Make a Spirited Demonstration in Protecting Merchantmen.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—The Rothschilds have received a dispatch from Rio saying that De Gama has surrendered. American Ships Cleared for Action.

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, via Galveston, Texas, Jan. 30.—While boats from an American merchantman were running out lines in order to haul their ship up to a wharf the rebel warships Trajano and Suñara fired a shower of bullets at them. Admiral Benham promptly signaled the Detroit and it at once steamed in toward shore, clearing for action as it came and warning the rebel ships that Admiral Benham would not permit any interference with ships flying the American flag, thus upholding Minister Thompson's views previously stated. The United States cruiser New York also cleared for action and steamed close to the Aquidaban and Tamandare, where it dropped anchor, while within an hour the rest of the American warships had called their crews to quarters. It is now inferred that the English are ready to join in this vigorous course, and it is believed Admiral Benham's action will result in another conference of the foreign naval commanders for a plan of concerted action.

President Peixoto failed to keep his engagement with Admiral Benham yesterday, to the general disappointment of everybody concerned, but an interview is appointed for to-day.

Admiral Benham's Efforts.

RIO JANEIRO, Jan. 26, via Montevideo, Jan. 30.—There is no basis whatever for the reports that Rear Admiral Benham, commanding the American squadron here, is acting in an official capacity in the attempt to bring about a settlement of the troubles by arbitration. That he is seeking to bring the troubles to an end is true, but he is simply acting as a private citizen in the negotiations.

Dynamite Exploded at Esparraguera.

MADRID, Jan. 30.—A dynamite cartridge exploded yesterday between a church and a large factory in Esparraguera, province of Catalonia. Nobody was injured. Several conspicuous anarchists were arrested yesterday in Catalonia and Valencia. Three of the arrests were made in Barcelona.

Dragged Down by Speculation.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—The Daily News correspondent in Berlin says: "The banking house of Solomon Maas in Mannheim has failed, with liabilities estimated at $1,000,000. The failure is attributed to speculation in Italian securities."

Crispi Wishes More Credit for Safety.

ROME, Jan. 30.—Premier Crispi will ask the chamber immediately after the opening of the session to grant an increase of 500,000 lire in the credit for public safety.

FIRE AT ST. LOUIS, MO.

Damage Reaching $70,000 Is Done to Several Stores.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 30.—Early yesterday fire broke out in the building 617 North Fourth street, occupied by Otto Oeters & Co., wholesale leather dealers. Most of the stock was burned. No. 615 North Fourth street was also badly damaged. The lower floor was occupied by August Sporleider, leather goods, and the upper floors by M. Lipstadt, clothing.

Oeter's loss is $30,000; insurance, $25,000. Sporleider's loss is perhaps $5,000 or less. Lipstadt's loss is $25,000; insurance, $19,000. The loss on the building is about $10,000.

Temperance Question in Iowa.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Jan. 30.—It is expected that the senate committee on the suppression of intemperance will have a bill ready to report to the senate in a few days. There is so much difference of opinion on the subject that a long fight is probable and a conference between prohibition and license seems likely.

In the house, Representative Root of Clinton introduced a bill changing the salary of the governor from $3,000 to $5,000 per annum.

Orders Will Not Affiliate.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 30.—Ex-Commander-in-Chief Weissert of the Grand Army of the Republic does not think the proposition to admit the Sons of Veterans into the Grand Army will be favorably considered for some time at least. Mr. Weissert says that, while he has great respect for the Sons of Veterans as an organization, he does not think that it would be wise at present to affiliate it with the Grand Army any more than it is at present.

For a Railroad Line to the Gulf.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 30.—Articles of incorporation of the Eastern Nebraska & Gulf railway company have been filed in the office of the secretary of state. The proposed line will start at Sioux City, Iowa, and proceed through the states of Nebraska, Kansas, Indian and Oklahoma territories, and through Texas to deep water connection on the Gulf of Mexico.

Mollie Roth, 20 years old and out of work, hanged herself, so her sick mother could collect a policy of $3,000.

ROSINA VOKES DEAD.

The Highly Gifted Actress Passes Away in London.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—Miss Rosina Vokes, of the famous Vokes family, is dead.

Miss Rosina Vokes, who was the most talented of the famous Vokes family, which has been prominent before the public for many years, was born in London in 1854. She made her debut at the age of 6 months as the baby in "Mr. and Mrs. Peter White." She retired from the stage when she married Mr. Cecil Clay in 1877, but returned to it some years later. One of Miss Rosina's brothers, Fred Vokes, married Bella Moore, daughter of "Pony" Moore, the minstrel manager and the father-in-law of Charlie Mitchell, the defeated pugilist.

Miss Vokes, who had been suffering from overwork in the United States, closed her tour and sailed for England Dec. 13 last.

Rosina Vokes was always a strong favorite in this country, large audiences invariably greeting her wherever she appeared. Her most popular roles here were, perhaps, those which she assumed in "My Milliner's Bill" and "The Circus Rider." No other comedienne on the stage had more admirers or more steadfast friends. In private life she was as bright and winsome as on the stage and there are many of those who were personally acquainted with her who will hear of her death with unfeigned sorrow. She leaves five children to mourn her departure.

UNION PACIFIC MEN WROTH.

They Claim the Receivers Have Been Tricky with Them.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 30.—The employees of the Union Pacific system are much incensed at the action of the receivers in rushing through the Federal court the new schedule of wages which was included in the order signed by Judge Dundy Saturday night. A claim is made by them that the receivers kept the matter quiet to prevent the employees from filing a petition asking for an increase of salaries rather than a cut. They say even at the present rate the wages paid are below the average on other roads, and that the receivers, in making comparisons, were not just nor honest and that nothing but the minimum salaries were shown. The employees claim the petition misled the court by giving an entirely erroneous idea instead of showing honest averages. Of course they can yet ask the court to reconsider, but it is feared that it will take a stronger case to induce the court to overrule its order than it would have required had they been given a showing at the proper time to prevent the schedule being approved.

The federated board of the Union Pacific has already taken action to defend itself. It has telegraphed Col. Robert G. Ingersoll, inviting him to take charge of the case. The board proposes to maintain what it considers its rights from start to finish, and will spend its money to do so. Col. Ingersoll is now taking care of the interests of the employees of the Northern Pacific, where a similar case exists. He laughs at the injunction of the court forbidding the men to quit work.

Bank Paper Goes Cheap.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 30.—A lot of Schlesinger bank certificates and so-called "paper" was sold yesterday by George P. Miller, under a power of sale. Certificates of the Commercial and Plankinton banks brought 50 cents on the dollar and those of the South Side Savings bank only 10 cents. The Schlesinger paper brought only 5 cents on the dollar. The certificates aggregated $140,000 and the paper about $14,000.

Iowa Lawyer Probably Killed.

SIoux CITY, Iowa, Jan. 30.—F. M. Amos, a liverman who claims to have been browbeaten on the witness stand by Lawyer F. E. Robinson, waited on the street for Robinson to come from his office yesterday and knocked him down. Robinson is in a critical condition and it is feared will die, as there are evidences that his skull was fractured. Amos gave himself up and is in jail.

Will Build It at Once.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Jan. 30.—The building of the San Antonio & Gulf Shore railroad will begin within ten days. Prominent capitalists from Kansas City have furnished all the outside financial assistance necessary to build and equip the line. Over $300,000 has also been raised by the several counties through which the road will be built.

Robbers Loot a Georgia Bank Vault.

ELLAVILLE, Ga., Jan. 30.—The Planters' bank of this city was broken open by burglars last night and $7,500 taken. The work was done scientifically and it is evident that the perpetrators were professionals. Dogs were put on the trail of two strange men who were seen journeying toward Preston.

Mr. Childs Shows Some Improvement.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 30.—A slight improvement is noticeable in George W. Childs' condition. Should this continue there is a chance for life. It is now twelve days since Mr. Childs was stricken, and it is owing to his vigorous constitution that he has not succumbed.

Joseph Wall was killed by a railroad train near Winona, Wash.

WELL KNOWN FIGURE
HAS PASSED AWAY.COL. W. H. TAYLOR PASSES
AWAY IN ST. PAUL.

Seventeen Years' Service as State Librarian of Minnesota Ended by His Death—He Was Private Secretary to President W. H. Harrison and Postmaster of Cincinnati.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 30.—Col. W. A. Taylor died this morning. He has been state librarian for seventeen years and was formerly President W. H. Harrison's private secretary. In 1830 he was postmaster of Cincinnati for four years.

THE COUGHLIN TRIAL.

Expert Medical Testimony and Lawyers' Quarrels Features Yesterday.

CHICAGO, Jan. 30.—Dr. Leonard St. John was the first witness yesterday and the tenth medical expert called by the defense in the Coughlin trial. There are others yet to come, it is said, the evident intent of the defense being to overwhelm by cumulative medical testimony the state's theory as to the cause of Dr. Cronin's death. Thus far the controversy among the physicians has been a conflict of opinions and a disagreement as to facts. The doctors have contradicted one another, and sometimes a medical expert would disclaim on the stand the opinions he had written in books some years ago.

James Knight, who worked for O'Sullivan in 1889, was next called. He swore that O'Sullivan was at his home on the evening of May 4, and that he did not leave the house that night. Witness testified that he distributed a number of O'Sullivan's business cards among the customs and public generally in the latter part of April. It was intended to show by this that O'Sullivan's cards were widely circulated and might be obtained by a person who desired to use them to decoy Dr. Cronin away. The rest of the day's session was taken up by wrangles between the lawyers and by the introduction of more expert testimony. Judge Wing of the defense complained that his office had been shadowed by detectives in the employ of the state, and Mr. Bottom, the leading lawyer for the prosecution, vehemently denied knowing anything of it.

BANKERS MEET CARLISLE.

Important Conference at the New York Sub-Treasury.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Invitations were sent to a score of the leading bankers of the city to meet Secretary of the Treasury John G. Carlisle at the sub-treasury yesterday to discuss the secretary's proposed issue of bonds, and in consequence there was a gathering of men noted in the financial circles of this country. During the conference every phase of the present financial situation was discussed, as well as the probability of the need of a further bond issue in case the Wilson tariff bill should become a law.

It was said that the secretary was anxious to meet the bankers and learn just what amount of the bonds the different institutions would take, and if they would take enough to insure the success of the secretary's proposition. Everything, it is understood, depends on the result of the conference and that there can be no hope of success of the bond issue unless the New York institutions come to the help of the secretary.

Hart Defense Begun.

ROCKFORD, Ill., Jan. 30.—The Hart murder trial was resumed yesterday at 2 o'clock, the defense beginning the introduction of testimony to prove the insanity of John Hart on the day of the tragedy.

Perish in a Burning Steamer.

VIENNA, Jan. 30.—A dispatch from Constantinople says the Turkish steamer Mi has been burned in the Black sea. The captain and twenty others perish; four were saved.

John B. Johnson and his son of Los Angeles, Cal., quarreled and killed each other with shotguns at a dinner.

NEED A PEST HOUSE NOT A HIGH SCHOOL

MAYOR THOROUGHGOOD'S SUGGESTION TO THE COUNCIL.

South Main Street Property Owners Will Have to Pay All the Extension Grade Tax—Franchise Voted to the Wisconsin Automatic Telephone Company Reconsidered.

Mayor Thoroughgood's declaration that a new pest house was needed, while a high school should not be built at this time; the reconsidering of the franchise given the Wisconsin Automatic Telephone company and referring it back to the fire and water committee, and that South Main street property owners will have to pay all the tax for the extension of that street, were the important measures considered and reported at last night's council meeting. Regarding the pest house, the mayor addressed the council as follows:

GENTLEMEN OF THE COUNCIL—Most of you are aware of the case of small pox now at the pest house. I do not say the house is what it should be, nor where it should be, but it is the only place the city has for that purpose and there was no alternative but for the health officer to remove the man to that building. Sheriff Bear notified me by telephone in a very emphatic manner that the man must be removed at once or there would be a riot in the jail. I answered him we had a health officer whose duties were to attend to these matters and so referred him, with the result that the man was removed to the only place where the city has any right to do so. This is one of the subjects that ought to receive the attention of the board of health and so recommend to the common council. We are just as liable to have such cases as any other town, and provisions ought to be made so that when they appear we have more commodious quarters, and which would be more isolated than where it now is. My judgment is the city should dispose of the so-called pest house; apply the proceeds towards purchasing better and more commodious quarters where there are a few acres of land attached thereto; installing some one who would keep same in good condition and be able at any time to care for any one the health officer should have to care for. This matter is a serious one and should receive your attention and be prepared for just such emergencies as this.

Telephone Franchise Rescinded.

The clerk read a communication from President George F. Stinch, of the Wisconsin Automatic Telephone Company, accepting the terms of the franchise granted and agreeing to have their system in working order in twelve months.

Mayor Thoroughgood said he had not approved the ordinance, stating that in his opinion the ordinance had not been given the consideration its importance demanded. He further said that after due deliberation if the council desired the ordinance passed he would sign it under protest. He asked the council to take a recess and discuss the question. Acting on this suggestion the council retired twenty minutes and on returning Alderman Arnold moved that the vote adopting the ordinance be reconsidered, which was adopted, and the ordinance was referred back to the fire and water committee.

New School Discouraged.

The resolutions of the school board asking the council to build a new high school were referred to the committee on schools. In referring the resolutions Mayor Thoroughgood said:

Before referring this school matter to the proper committee, I desire to give you gentlemen of the common council my views on the subject. I do not think it wise you should entertain any question whereby you should incur obligations to pay for any new purpose while the city is undergoing such a depression in business circles as at present. Janesville is perhaps as well off as any city, yet if you will consult the city treasurer how slowly the citizens are paying their taxes, through their inability to do so. I have a chance to know much concerning the condition of the people here. I am aware that the payment of bonds would not be for some time to come, but the interest on some would cut quite a figure and must increase the tax levy. You are aware we are borrowing money now to meet present obligations. This borrowed money must be paid back together with a larger appropriation for next year. I am not adverse to complying with this request of the school board. No man is more willing than myself to advance the interest of our schools, and I would be glad to entertain the request of the school board, but at the present time when men are asking the privilege of working for $1 per day and cannot get it at those figures, it would be out of character to entertain the request just now. In my judgment it would be well to allow this matter to lay over until the state of trade would justify you in complying with the requirements as contained in the report of the school board.

Grade Ruling a Surprise.

Clerk Bates astonished many when he announced that in the granting of an extension to South Main street an attempt was made to find an ordinance by which the street had been divided into North and South Main streets. There was no such ordinance indexed and the natural supposition was that there was no such ordinance.

A. A. Jackson who was a member of the council in 1870, remembered distinctly that such an ordinance was passed, and on searching the records it was found. It provided for the division of the streets at Milwaukee street, but the ordinance had never been indexed. This would require a new assessment to be made as only the property owners south of Milwaukee street will be required to pay for the grading.

An order was adopted, refunding to North Main street property owners the tax paid, and ordering the whole amount assessed on South Main street property.

At the request of Captain C. F. Glass James Rook was appointed special police without pay for duty in the Light Infantry armory, and the company was granted permission to post bills on Milwaukee street bridge.

Miscellaneous Business Done.

The sa-oon license of J. L. Burnett was authorized transferred to W. C. Hart. The annual report of the chief of the fire department was presented and referred to committee on fire and water. Alderman Child, of the finance committee, reported in favor of allowing sundry bills, which was concurred in.

The bill of Dr. J. B. Whiting, $265, for attending the Behling family, was referred back for further consideration. The bill of L. Paul, sixty dollars, for gravel furnished in grading South Main street, was allowed, and the amount charged up to the grading expense. Mayor Thoroughgood was authorized to borrow $1,000 for the benefit of the general fund. An electric light was ordered at the corner of Eastern avenue and McKey boulevard, and one at the north end of Jackson street bridge. An order was adopted paying P. Ryan $600 from the South Main street grade fund. On motion of Alderman Smith, David Jeffris was given permission to occupy portions of High and Dodge streets for storing building material while erecting his new building, he to hold the city free from all damages on account of such occupation.

MOURN THOMAS TAYLOR'S DEATH

Whitewater People Grieved at the Result of The Janesville Accident.

Whitewater people were much grieved by the death of Thomas Taylor, the man who fell from a train near this city and received fatal injuries. The Register tells how the sad accident happened and then says:

"So the last of earth will come for honest, kindly, exemplary Tom Taylor, but what hours, days and years of sorrow remain for the many to whom his life was a constant source of strength and happiness. And outside of his family circle there will be a long and sincere regret that so true, upright and many a spirit should be removed from a world which has too few such, and none to spare without a sense of genuine loss."

THE FEENEY SUIT HAS BEEN SETTLED

LAWYER GETS PAY FOR BEING BOUNCED.

The Slander Suit Against Father James F. Bowe the Cause of the Disturbance—Defendants Allege that they Were in Possession of the Park and Acted Properly.

M. J. Feeney's damage suit against Con and J. McCarthy will not be tried for the McCarthy's paid Mr. Feeney $75 and settled the suit by paying the costs. Feeney, who is a bright young attorney at Edgerton, went to the picnic of the Catholic Temperance society. Father Bowe did not consider Mr. Feeney's presence necessary to make a success of that gathering and caused his ejection from the grounds. His advice was the "indirect force" while the "direct force" was furnished by the McCarthy's who put Mr. Feeney outside the gate.

The circumstances which form the basis of the action took place a little over a year ago. Feeney was ordered to leave the picnic grounds by the defendants and others, and when he failed to comply with the order, was forcibly expelled, and he claims was assaulted and beaten by the two defendants, for which he asked damages in the sum of $2,000 from each. The defendants admit that they expelled Feeney from the grounds, but claim they were in lawful possession of the park at the time, and had a right to keep him out, and that they used no undue force in compelling his retirement.

The feeling which caused Mr. Feeney's expulsion from the grounds was due to the fact that he is attorney for Mrs. Carrie A. Ford, of Edgerton, in a slander suit against Father James F. Bowe, in which she claims $10,000 damages for defamation of character, charging Father Bowe with the use of very unseemly language concerning her.

EARL DOTY PLAYS AT STOUGHTON

Assisted Amateurs Is Presenting "The Noble Outcast" Thursday Night.

Clarence Burdick or Earl C. Doty, as he is known on the stage, assisted amateurs to give a performance at Stoughton and the Hub says: "The Noble Outcast," a drama given by home talent, assisted by Earl C. Doty, of Janesville, attracted an audience that nearly filled opera hall Thursday evening of last week. Those who did go pronounced it an entertainment above the average of productions given by alleged professional companies. Financially, we are told, it is not a winner, the amateurs giving the lion's share of the proceeds to their professional instructor. It is possible, we think, for our local Thespians, to present in a creditable way a dramatic entertainment without the aid of imported talent of the semi-professional order."

BLINDNESS DID NOT LIMIT HER

Mrs. Carrie Porter Manning and Her Work as a Musician.

A distinguished graduate of the Janesville school for the blind has just died. Mrs. Carrie Porter Manning, whose death at Charles City, Ia., was recently announced, lost her sight in early youth, while living at Hebron, Wis. She was a natural musician and after her graduation from the Wisconsin Institute for the Blind supported herself by the exercise of that accomplishment. Her "Initiation March, a Blind Sister's Offering to the W. R. C." was published by Ditson of Boston, officially adopted by the national committee, and sold to the corps throughout the country. Many of her poems, too, form a volume entitled "Heart Echoes."

A NEW STORY

—BY—

CAPT. CHAS. R. KING,

THE PRINCE OF AMERICAN STORY WRITERS.

Waring's Peril

WILL SOON BEGIN IN THIS PAPER.

The stories heretofore written by Captain King have proved so very popular that it is only sufficient to announce a new one by him to command universal attention. We take pleasure in informing our readers of the treat in store for them.

LOOK OUT FOR THE OPENING CHAPTERS.

They Are All Strong Companies.

Absolute security is given by the companies represented in the agency of Silas Hayner. A partial list follows:

Insurance Company of North America. Pennsylvania Fire Insurance Company. Buffalo, German Insurance Company, New York. Northwestern National Insurance Company. Commercial Union of London. Westchester Insurance Company, New York.

They are time tried and fire tested. Thankful for past favors.

I am very respectfully,

SMITH'S PHARMACY, Agents.

A New Year Dawns On Ragged Lawns, Etc.

We will give you a little light on where to purchase until March 1.

CHEAP.

An elegant line of Push Caps at 75c. We paid $9.00 a dozen for them. Can buy Wool caps at 25 cents. Only a few left. Cost us not less.

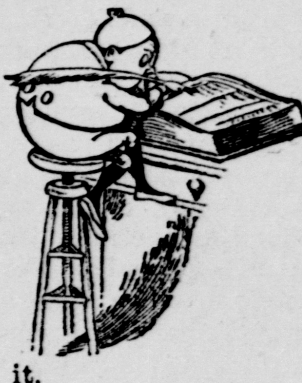

Lined gloves and mittens at actual cost. Broken sizes in underwear even lower than above.

NOW OUR REASONS.

What we carry now to next season is old to us and we then start them in at cost. Why not do it now and have the use of something until then. We both make by the transaction.

Can You See Where

It will be a difficult task to figure any profit on those goods when you get our prices. Our veracity has never been questioned. Do you doubt it? Let us prove it.

KNEFF & ALLEN, "Honest Dealers."

A Lot of People

have a horse or horses that they don't want. We want one or two carloads—say a carload of good work horses and a carload of good drivers. We have building lots that are sure to advance from 10 to 20 per cent. within two years; we have a good many of them; we will exchange enough of them to pay for horses enough to fill two cars. If you prefer horses we have six good ones for sale and will take half the price of any of them in horses.

We must buy this stock right and will sell you the real estate very low. Call and see us.

Yours very truly,

GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

Something that we do.

We buy and sell farms. We exchange city property for farms. We buy and sell city and village property or we exchange city property for any kind of personal property. We buy for cash or real estate any kind of stocks of goods. If you are in the dry goods, hardware, grocery, jewelry, crockery, boots and shoes, or general merchandise business and want to get out, you can sell out to us and get cash and good real estate. We loan money on real estate at right rates. We make loans for other parties. Whatever you have, whatever you want to do in the way of dealing, you go wrong unless you come to us. It seems so to us.

Yours very truly,

GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

GREAT BANQUETS FORM HIS TOPIC.

TALMAGE PREACHES A MOST REMARKABLE SERMON

The Subject Being "Festivity"—"Come,
for All Things are Now Ready." Luke 14:17.—The Beautiful Character of Our Lord Jesus Christ.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Jan. 24.—The usual large audience assembled today in the Tabernacle and listened to a sermon of remarkable power and interest by Rev. Dr. Talmage, the subject being "Festivity."
The text selected was Luke 14:17,
"Come, for all things are now ready."
It was one of the most exciting
times in English history when Queen Elizabeth visited Lord Leicester at Kenilworth castle. The moment of her arrival was considered so important that all the clocks of the castle
were stopped, so that the hands might point to that one moment as being the most significant of all. She was greeted at the gate with floating islands, and torches, and the thunder of cannon,
and fireworks that set the night ablaze,
and a great burst of music that lifted
the whole scene into perfect enchantment. Then she was introduced into a dining-hall, the luxuries of which astonished the world; 400 servants waited upon the guests; the entertainment cost $5,000 each day. Lord Leicester made that great supper in Kenilworth castle.

Cardinal Wolsey entertained the French ambassadors at Hampton court. The best cooks in all the land prepared for the banquet; purveyors went out and traveled all the kingdom over to find spoils for the table. The time came.
The guests were kept during the day
hunting in the king's park, so that their appetites might be keen, and then in the evening, to the sound of the trumpets, they were introduced into a hall hung with silk and cloth of gold, and there were tables aglitter
with imperial plate and laden with the rarest of meats and a-bush with the costliest wines. And when the second course of the feast came it was found that the articles of food had been fashioned into the shape of men, birds and beasts, and groups dancing and jousting parties riding against each other with lances. Lords and princes and ambassadors, out of cups filled to the brim, drank the health, first of the king of England and next of the king of France. Cardinal Wolsey prepared that great supper in Hampton court.

But I have to tell you of a grander entertainment. My Lord, the King, is the banqueter. Angels are the cupbear-
ers. All the redeemed are the guests.
The halls of eternal love, frescoed with light, and paved with joy, and curtained with unfading beauty, are the banquetting place. The harmonies of eternity are the music. The chaises of heaven are the plate; and I am one of the servants coming out
with both hands filled with invitations,
scattering them everywhere, and, oh,
that for yourselves, you might break
the seal of the invitation and read the words written in red ink of blood by the tremulous hand of a dying Christ:
"Come now, for all things are ready."

There have been grand entertainments where was a taking off—the wine gave out, or the servants were rebellious, or the light failed; but I have gone all around about this subject and looked at the redemption
which Christ has provided, and I come here to tell you it is complete, and I swing open the door of the feast, telling you that, "All things are now ready."

In the first place, I have to announce that the Lord Jesus Christ himself is ready. Cardinal Wolsey came into the feast after the first course; he came in booted and spurred; and the guests arose and cheered him. But Christ comes in at the very beginning of the feast; ay, he has been waiting eighteen hundred and ninety-four years for his guests. He has been standing on his mangled feet; he has had his sore hand on his punctured side; or he has been pressing his lacerated temples—waiting, waiting. It is wonderful that he has not been impatient, and that he has not said, "Shut the door and let the laggard stay out;" but he has been waiting. No banqueter ever waited for his guests so patiently as Christ has waited for us. To prove how willing he is to receive us, I gather all the tears that rolled down his cheeks in sympathy for your sorrows; I gather all the drops of blood
that channeled his brow, and his back,
and his hands and feet, in trying to purchase your redemption; I gather all
the groans that he uttered in midnight
chill, and in mountain hermitage, and in desert loneliness, and twist them into one cry—bitter, agonizing, overwhelming. I gather all the pains that shot from spear, and spike and cross, grinding into one pang—remorseless, grinding, excruciating. I take that one drop of sweat on his brow, and under the gospel glass that drop enlarges
until I see in it lakes of sorrow and an ocean of agony. That being standing before you now, emaciated, and gashed, and gory, coaxes for your love with a pathos in which every word is a heartbreak and every sentence a martyrdom. How can you think he trifles?

As a man prepared a feast for 180
days; but this feast is for all eternity.
Lords and princes were invited to that;
you, and I, and all our world are invited to this. Christ is ready. You know that the banquetters of olden time used to wrap themselves in robes
prepared for the occasion; so, my Lord Jesus hath wrapped himself in all that is beautiful. See how fair he is! His eye, his brow, his cheek, so radiant that the stars have no gleam and the morning no brilliancy compared with
it. His face reflecting all the joys of the redeemed, his hand having the omnipotent surgery with which he opened blind eyes, and straightened crooked

limbs, and hoisted the pillars of heaven,
and swung the twelve gates which are twelve pearls. There are not enough cups in heaven to dip up this ocean of beauty. There are not ladders enough to scale this height of love. There are not enough cymbals to clap, or harps to thrum, or trumpets
to peal forth the praises of this one altogether fair, Oh, thou flower of eternity, thy breath is the perfume of heaven! Oh, blissful daybreak, let all people clap their hands in thy radiance! Chorus! Come, men, and saints, and cherubim, and seraphim, and arch-
angel—all heights, all depths, all im-mensities. Chorus! Roll him through the heavens in a chariot of universal acclaim, over bridges of hosannas, under arches of coronation, along by the great towers chiming with eternal jubilee. Chorus! "Unto him who hath loved us, and washed us from our sins
in his own blood, to him be glory, world
without end!"

I have a word of five letters, but no
sheet white enough on which to write it, and no pen good enough on which to inscribe it. Give me the fairest leaf from the heavenly records—give me the pencil with which the angel records his victory—and then, with my hand strung to supernatural ecstasy, and my pen dipped in the light of the morning,
I will write it out in capitals of love:
"J-E-S-U-S." It is this One, infinitely fair, to whom you are invited. Christ is waiting for you; waiting as a ban-queter waits for the delayed guest—the meats smoking, the beakers brimming, the minstrels with fingers on the stiff string, waiting for the clash of the hoofs at the gateway. Waiting for you as a mother waits for her son who went off ten years ago, dragging
her bleeding heart along with him.
Waiting! Oh, give me a comparison intense enough, hot enough, impetuous enough to express my meaning—something high as heaven, and deep as hell,
and long as eternity. Not hoping that you can help me with such a comparison I will say: "He is waiting as only the all-sympathetic Christ can wait
for the coming back of a lost soul."

Bow the knee and kiss the Son,
Come, and welcome, sinner; come.

Again, the Holy Spirit is ready. Why is it that so many sermons drop dead—
that Christian songs do not get their wing under the people—that so often prayer goes no higher than a hunter's
"holloa"? It is because there is a link wanting—the work of the Holy Spirit.
Unless that Spirit give grappling hooks to a sermon, and lift the prayer, and waft the song, everything is a dead
failure. That Spirit is willing to come at our call and lead you to eternal life, or ready to come with the same power with which he unhorsed Saul on the Damascus turnpike, and broke down Lydia in her fine store, and lifted
the three thousand from midnight into midnight at the Pentecost. With that power the Spirit of God now beats
at the gate of your soul. Have you not noticed what homely and insignificant instrumentality the Spirit of God employs for man's conversion? There was a man on a Hudson river boat to whom a tract was offered. With indignation he tore it up and threw it overboard. But one fragment lodged on his coat-sleeve, and he saw on it the word "eternity," and he found no peace until he was prepared for that great future. Do you know what passage it was that caused Martin Luther to see the truth? "The just shall live by faith." Do you know there is one—just one—passage that brought Augustine from a life of dissi-pation? "Put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make no provision for the flesh to fulfill the lusts thereof." It was just one passage that converted Hedley Vickers, the great soldier, to Christ: "The blood of Jesus Christ cleanseth from all sin." Do you know that the Holy Spirit used one passage of scripture to save Jonathan Edwards? "Now, unto the king, eternal,
immortal, invisible, the only wise
God, our Savior, be glory." One year ago on Thanksgiving day I read for my text: "O give thanks unto the Lord, for he is good; for his mercy endureth forever." And there is a young man in the house to whose heart the Holy Spirit took that text for his eternal redemption. I might speak of my own case. I will tell you I was brought to the peace of the gospel through the Syrro-Phoenician woman's cry to Christ:
"Even the dogs eat of the crumbs that fall from the master's table."

Do you know that the Holy Spirit
most always uses insignificant means?
Eloquent sermons never save anybody;
metaphysical sermons never save anybody; philosophical sermons never save anybody. But the minister comes some Sabbath to his pulpit, worn out with engagements and the jangling of a frenzied door bell; he has only a text
and two or three ideas, but he says:
"O Lord, help me. Here are a good many people I may never meet again.
I have not much to say. Speak thou through my poor lips;" and before the service is done there are tearful eyes
and a solemnity like the judgment.
The great French orator, when the dead king lay before him, looked up and cried: "God only is great;" and the triumph of his eloquence has been told by the historians. But I have not heard that one soul was saved by the oratorical flourish. Worldly critics may think that the early preaching of Thomas Chalmers was a masterpiece. But Thomas Chalmers says he never began to preach
until he came out of the sick room, white and emaciated, and told men the simple story of Jesus. In the great day of eternity, it will be found that the most souls
have been brought to Christ, not by the Bossuets, and Massillons, and Bourdaloues,
but by humble men who, in the strength
of God, and believing in the eternal Spirit, invited men to Jesus. There were wise scribes—there were excellent orators, I suppose, in the time of Christ, for blind or inflamed eyes.
But Jesus turned his back upon them,
and put the tip of his finger to his tongue, and then, with the spittle that adhered to the finger, he anointed the eyes of the blind man.

and daylight poured into his blinded
soul. So it is now that the Spirit of God takes that humble prayer-meeting talk, which seems to be the very saliva of Christian influence, and anoints the eyes of the blind, and pours the sunlight of pardon and peace upon the soul. O, my friend, I wish we could feel it more and more, that if any good is done it is by the power of God's omnipotent Spirit. I do not know what hymn may bring you to Jesus. I do not know what words of the scripture lesson I read may save your soul. Perhaps the Spirit of God may hurl the very text into your heart: "Come, for all things are now
ready."

Again, the church is ready. Oh man, if I could take the curtain off
these Christian hearts, I could show
you a great many anxieties for your redemption. You think that old man is asleep, because his head is down and his eyes are shut. No, he is praying for your redemption, and hoping that the words spoken may strike your heart.
Do you know the air is full of prayer? Do you know that prayer is going up from Fulton street prayer-meeting, and from Friday evening prayer-meeting, and going up every hour of the day for the redemption of the people? And if you should just start toward the door of the Christian Church, how quickly it would fly open. Hundreds of people would say: "Give that man room at the altar. Bring the silver bowl for his baptism. Give him the right hand of Christian fellowship. Bring him into all Christian associations." Oh, you wanderer on the cold mountains, come into the warm sheepfold. I let down the bars and bid you come in. With the Shepherd's crook I point you the way. Hundreds of Christian hands beckon you into the Church of God.
A great many people do not like the church, and say it is a great mass of hypocrites; but it is a glorious church
with all its imperfections. Christ bought it, and hoisted the pillars, and swung its gates, and lifted its arches,
and curtained it with upholstery crimson with crucifixion carnage. Come into it.

We are a garden walled around,
Chosen and made peculiar ground;
A little spot enclosed by grace,
Out of the world's wild wilderness.

Again, the angels of God are ready.
A great many Christians think that the talk about angels is fanciful. You say it is a very good subject for theological students who have just begun to sermonize; but for older men it is improper. There is no more proof in that Bible that there is a God than that there are angels. Why, do not they swarm about Jacob's ladder? Are we not told that they conducted Lazarus upward? that they stand before the throne, their faces covered up with their wing, while they cry: "Holy,
holy, is the Lord God Almighty!" Did not David see thousands and thousands? Did not one angel slay one hundred and eighty-five thousand men in Sennacherib's army? And shall they not be the chief harvesters at the judgment?

There is a line of loving, holy,
mighty angels reaching to heaven. I suppose they reach from here to the very gate, and when an audience is assembled for Christian worship, the air is full of them. If each one of you have a guardian angel, how many celestials there are here. They crowd
the place, they hover, they flit about,
they rejoice. Look, that spirit is just come from the throne. A moment ago it stood before Christ and heard the doxology of the glorified. Look!
Bright immortal, what news from the golden city! Speak, spirit, blest! The response comes melting on the air:
"Come, for all things are now ready!"
Angels ready to bear the tidings,
angels ready to drop the benediction,
angels ready to kindle the fire. They have stood in glory—they know all about it. They have felt the joy that is felt where there are no tears
and no graves; immortal songs, but no groans; wedding bells, but no
funeral torches—eyes that never weep
—hands that never blister—heads that never faint—hearts that never break—
friendships that are never weakened.

Again, your kindred in glory are all ready for your coming. I pronounce modern spiritualism a fraud and a sham. If John Milton and George Whitefield have no better business
than to crawl under a table and rattle
the leaves, they had better stay at home in glory. While I believe that modern spiritualism is bad, because of its mental and domestic ravages,
common sense, enlightened by
the Word of God, teaches us
that our friends in glory sympathize with our redemption. This Bible says plainly there is joy in heaven among the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth; and if angels rejoice and know of it, shall not our friends, standing among them, know it? Some of these spirits in glory toiled for your redemption. When they came to die, their chief grief was that you were not a Christian. They said: "Meet me in heaven," and put their hand out from the cover and said: "Good-by." Now, suppose you should cross over from a sinful life to a holy life. Suppose you should be born into the kingdom. Suppose you should now say: "Farewell, O deceitful world! Get thee gone my sin! Pie upon all the follies! O Christ help me or I perish! I take thy promise. I believe thy word. I enter thy service." Suppose you should say and do this? Why, the angel sent to you would shout upward: "He is coming!"
and the angel, poised higher in the air, would shout it upward: "He is coming;" and it would run all up the line of light, from wing to wing, and from trumpet to trumpet, until it reached the gate; and then it would flash to "the house of many mansions,"
and it would find out your kindred
there, and before your tears of repentance had been wiped from the cheek,
and before you had finished your first prayer, your kindred in glory would know of it, and another heaven would be added to their joy, and they would

cry: "My prayers are answered, another loved one saved. Give me a harp with which to strike the joy.
Saved! saved! saved!"

If I have shown you that "all things are ready," that Christ is ready, that the Holy Spirit is ready, that the church is ready, that the angels in glory are ready, that your glorified kindred are ready, then with all the concentrated emphasis of my soul, I ask you if you are ready? You see my subject throws the whole responsibility upon yourself. If you do not get in to the King's banquet, it is because you do not accept the invitation. You have the most important invitation. Two arms stretched down from the cross, soaked in blood from elbow to finger-tip; two lips quivering
in mortal anguish; two eyes beaming
with infinite love, saying: "Come, come,
for all things are now ready."

I told you that when the queen came to Kenilworth castle, they stopped all the clocks, that the finger of time
might be pointed to that happy moment of her arrival. Oh, if the King would come to the castle of your soul, you might well afford to stop all the clocks, that the hands might forever
point to this moment as the one most bright, most blessed, most tremendous.
Now, I wish I could go around from circle to circle and invite every one of you, according to the invitation of my text, saying: "Come!" I would like to take every one of you by the hand,
and say: "Come!" Old man, who hast
been wandering sixty or seventy years, thy sun almost gone down, through the dust of the evening stretch out your withered hand to Christ. He will not cast thee off, old man. Oh! that one tear of repentance might trickle down thy wrinkled cheek. After Christ has fed thee all thy life long, do you not think you can afford to speak one word in his praise?

Come, those of you who are farthest
away from God. Drunkard! Christ can put out the fire of thy thirst. He can break that shackle. He can restore thy blasted home. Go to Jesus.
Libertine! Christ saw thee where thou wert last night. He knows of thy sin.
Yet, if thou wilt bring thy polluted
soul to him this moment, he will throw over it the mantle of his pardon and love. Mercy for thee, O thou chief of sinners. Harlot! thy feet foul with hell, and thy laughter the horror of the street—oh, Mary Magdalen—look to Jesus. Mercy for thee, poor lost waif of the street! Self-righteous man, thou must be born again, or thou canst not see the kingdom of God.
Do you think you can get into the feast with those rags? Why, the King's servant would tear them off and leave you naked at the gate. You must be born again. The day is far spent. The cliffs begin to slide their long shadows across the plain. Do you know the feast has already begun—the feast to which you were invited—and the King sits with his guests, and the servant stands with his hand on the door of the banquetting room, and he begins to swing it shut. It is halfway shut. It is three-fourths shut. It is only just ajar. Soon it will be shut.
"Come, for all things are now ready."
Have I missed one man? Who has not felt himself called this hour? Then I call him now. This is the hour of thy redemption.

While God invites, how blest the day,
How sweet the Gospel's charming sound
Come sinner, haste, oh, haste away,
While yet a pardoning God is found.

A Contractor's Advice.
Dullman's German Medicine Co., Gentlemen:
I take great pleasure in testifying in behal-Dullman's German Blood Purifier, and Kidney Cure. I can safely say that I never took such medicine as that to cleanse my mach and kidneys. I was suffering for years with biliousness, indigestion and loss of appetite, and sleep. One bottle of it did me more good than six months of other treatment, and I feel it my duty to testify in its behalf, so others may be benefited and cured.
Yours truly, Mrs. McDonald, Milana, Neb.

WHERE WILL FUNDS BE RAISED?

The income tax is downed and people are anxious to know how the democrats expect to raise revenue. The present taxes and duties, it is now estimated, will be about $75,000,000 or $80,000,000 short of expenditures in the current fiscal year, and this immense deficit the Wilson bill in its present shape would double. Of course, if the democrats should drop their tariff bill, or if it should be killed in either branch of congress so that this menace to the country's industries would be removed, business of all sorts would revive, imports would increase and the revenues expand. Nothing of this sort, however, is within the domain of probability. A tariff and internal tax bill will be passed, but there is not the slightest reason to believe that these measures will meet the treasury shortage. After the bills are passed, though, and the industries affected have time to adjust themselves to the new conditions, trade improvement will soon set in and governmental income will increase. Meanwhile the secretary of the treasury will be compelled to protect his reserve by occasional bond sales.

WILSON BILL IN PERIL.

The impression is gaining ground every day that material changes will be made in the Wilson bill in the senate. At the outset some of the democrats were doubtful about its chances in that body, and their misgivings have been strengthened rather than weakened as time passes. The deficit, they see, is increasing instead of decreasing, and the Wilson bill is calculated to largely expand it, or perhaps to double it. A bill which increases treasury difficulties already serious enough to necessitate a loan of $50,000,000 they think is likely to encounter formidable opposition even from the party which is responsible for the measure, and the prospect for its passage in a body in which that party's majority is small consequently appears to them far from encouraging.

Congressman H. A. Cooper was before the rivers and harbors committee much of the time last week and a veteran of the committee says: "He is one of the best informed members in regard to the waterways of the district he represents that has appeared before the committee this season."

BEAR THIS IN MIND.

IT SOUNDS LIKE A REMARKABLE EXPERIENCE.

But It Is In Reality Nothing Of the Kind—It Certainly Reads However, Like a Wonderful Thing.

Things are happening every day which appear wonderful. Here is an occurrence which as one reads about it certainly appears extraordinary to say the least. Yet it is nothing but what is happening daily and hourly, only this particular event has been brought a little more prominently before the public.

The great and peculiar interest of this event lies in the fact that it concerns everybody, because it describes exactly what occurs in the lives of so many of us.

The facts are given by Mrs. M. D. Perkins, who resides at 100 G St., South Boston, Mass., and can be easily substantiated by anybody.

"I hardly know how to tell it," began Mrs. Perkins but I was completely run down and could not eat, for the sight of food made me sick. I did not sleep at night, and was as tired in the morning as when I retired at night.

"My head and back ached all the time. I was completely exhausted if I tried to do my housework, and could not walk without being dizzy. I was excessively nervous and very weak.

MRS. M. D. PERKINS.

"Then I began to take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and I cannot say enough in its praise. I have not felt so well for years as I do at the present time, thanks to this splendid medicine.

"I can now eat well and sleep soundly, waking mornings strong and refreshed. I do my housework which is now a pleasure instead of being a burden as formerly. My weight has increased about twelve pounds in the last two months. I have taken no other medicine but Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and I would recommend any one afflicted as I have been to by all means use this wonderful remedy."

This case was probably just like yours; it is just like thousands of others who have been or are being cured by this wonderful health restorer, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. If you will use this medicine, which is purely vegetable and harmless as well as sure in its effects, you also will be cured.

It is a physician's prescription and is recommended by doctors. Dr. Greene discovered it, the well known and successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, whose office is at 35 W. 14th street, New York, who can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

Life Was a Burden

Because of the intense pains in my stomach and side, and also on account of gall stones. After eating I would be in great distress. I became so reduced in flesh that my friends thought I would not live long. I grew worse and my removal to a hospital in Syracuse was under advisement, when my father had me give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial. There was an improvement at once and I have continued taking it until I am now well. I have gained in flesh and can eat heartily without distress. I now enjoy life and I owe it all to Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. MARY SHUTE, Cazenovia, N. Y.

STATE OF WISCONSIN—COUNTY OF ROCK. Notice is hereby given that at a regular term of the county court to be held in and for said county at the court house, in the city of Janesville, in said county, on the first Tuesday of the month of February, 1894, at 9 o'clock a. m., the following matter will be heard and considered:

The application of Elizabeth R. Rossette, deponent, with the will annexed, for the appointment of an administrator of the estate of John Caple, late of the town of Magnolia, in said county deceased.

By the court, J. W. SALE, County Judge. Dated Jan. 30, 1894. d3w3j23

Practical Illustration.

A farmer asked a well-known Father Tom Maguire what a miracle was. He gave him a very full explanation, which, however, did not seem quite to satisfy the farmer, who said: "Now, do you think, your reverence, you could give me an example of a miracle?" "Well," said Father Tom, "walk on before me and I'll see what I can do." As he did so he gave him a tremendous kick behind. "Did you feel that?" he asked. "Why wouldn't I feel it?" said the farmer, rubbing the damaged place; "begorra I did feel it, sure enough." "Well," said Father Tom, "it would be a miracle if you didn't."

Mrs. Hattie Gottfried of Lowell, Mass., is probably the youngest grandmother in the country. She was married before she was sixteen, in 1876, and her daughter, born in 1877, also married before she was sixteen. The grandchild, Eva, was born in September, 1893.

Baltimore had a pretty musical entertainment the other night. The lullabys of many lands were sung and acted in costumes. Scotch, Hungarian, Dutch, Russian, German, Danish, Japanese, Italian, Spanish, Swedish and Indian cradle customs were interpreted with great success.

Rev. Dr. Robert Collyer preached on a recent Sunday from the text, "How Old Art Thou?" On the previous Friday he attained the age of seventy years, and during the thirty years he has been preaching he has never been enforcedly absent a single Sunday but once, when he was lame. He has never been sick in bed for a single day.

POLICE WERE BUSY WITH WICKED FOLK.

GEORGE STEINMAN PURSUED
BY A LANDLORD.

He Owed for Several Months Board and Took Advantage of the Hotel Man's Kindness—Joseph Whalen Has to Go Back to Sparta—Worked an Order on Ole Paulson.

The police had a fairly busy time to-day, thank you, although it wasn't the best day in the world for crooks, and the jail is under quarantine regulations. George Steinman was the first man who fell into the clutches of the law. Steinman is a highly educated young German who is polished in both English and his native tongue. In one way his education had been neglected; in the small matter of paying board for instance; and the taking advantage of a kind hearted landlord who would not only trust but help his guests. Steinman hadn't paid his board for some months, and when the landlord approached him he replied unconcernedly:

"Oh, I've got five hundred dollars in the bank of Monroe, but I haven't got the money to go over and get it."

The landlord's answer was a five dollar bill, and Steinman left for Monroe to get the money. He wouldn't have been back yet if the police hadn't got him. They put him in charge of Officer Kruse, as they couldn't take him to jail and lock him up with the small pox microbes.

Bad Boy in Custody.

Joseph Whalen is a spindle legged boy of fourteen years' experience, most of which experience has been acquired on the broad and smooth highway of the wicked. He will now go back to Sparta, where the state maintains a storehouse for bad boys. Whalen was there once but ran away. He had been adopted by a family who live near the School for the Blind and when he got out of the Sparta institution he returned to his Monterey haunts. His step sister asked him to go on an errand but the boy wasn't very ambitious and got a slap on the face. The two exchanged slaps once or twice and Mrs. Whalen told the boy to leave. He made for the C. & N. W. depot and caught the 6:25 train for Chicago but Clinton police took him off and sent him back on the early morning limited and Conductor Garwood turned him over to Officer Conroy. Joseph would not be locked up, so they let him go but "kept one eye on him." This morning Chief Acheson was notified by telegraph to arrest him and hold him until Superintendent Sanborn, of the state school at Sparta could come down. Whalen ran away from that institution three months ago and said that he'd rather go to jail than go home, although the family who adopted him had always used him kindly.

Worked an Order on Paulson.

Ole Paulson, the tailor, gave a boy some clothes on the strength of an order signed by "Thomas Drummond," which stated that he had hired the boy "for three months for twelve dollars a month," and "would pay him in two months," and that he was all right. George Kelley was the name the boy gave, and after Mr. Paulson had honored the order it came into his mind that the transaction was not wholly according to Hoyle, so he gave the order to Chief Acheson to investigate.

SHOULD HANDLE NO PATIENTS
City Health Officers Not Supposed to Care
For Charity Cases.

Dr. Whiting's bill, $265 for service and medicine furnished the unfortunate Behling family, came up in the council last evening and created quite a discussion. There seems to be a misunderstanding regarding this bill of Dr. Whiting as well as the duties of the health officer. It is no part of the health officer's duty to give his professional services to any class of people on account of his official position. The law clearly defines his duties, which are in the main to carry out the rules of the health department. In the case of the Behling family, Dr. Whiting was the attending physician, making daily visits, furnishing medicine, and according to this bill he made one hundred and four visits, there being three patients to attend to.

MINOR TRIBULATIONS.

The presence of mind of Rev. D. G. Downey of Stamford, Conn., was probably responsible for the saving of the lives of the congregation on a recent Sunday. While he was preaching an usher informed him that the church was on fire. He requested the organist to continue playing and the congregation to leave quietly, without telling them the cause. The building was soon emptied without any loss of life.

A Paris beggar has been living very comfortably by hanging himself. He would choose a tree near where young children were playing, string himself up and groan to attract attention, so that they would run for help. He would be cut down and restored and a letter in his pocket would explain his attempted suicide by a statement of his destitution. He knew how to attach the noose so as to avoid strangulation.

A friend of one of Baltimore's most popular young men of wealth tells a story at his expense. The youth on a recent visit to Chicago was riding in a crowded car in that city, when two bustling women who entered exclaimed: "There's no chance of getting a seat here." The Baltimorean doffed his hat and invited her to take his place to her utter surprise. The car became still more crowded and madame's snarl voice said: "Won't you sit in my lap?" The courtly Baltimorean bowed again and said: "I do not deem myself worthy of that honor." "Why, I didn't mean you. I was talking to Eliza," was the indignant answer.

A well-known English sportsman was traveling in Spain with his wife at the time of the Barcelona explosion. Not hearing from him, his relations induced the foreign office to telegraph to the authorities at Barcelona to make inquiries. The telegram was this: "Arthur Smith, British subject, in Barcelona during recent outrages. Kindly make inquiries. Wire results." To this came answer: "Man Smith is in Barcelona. He is being watched." This was followed by a second message: "Man Smith attempted to leave Barcelona last night. Now in custody." Shortly after Smith himself wired this to the foreign office: "Owing to your confounded telegram have spent twenty-four hours in Spanish jail. What do you mean?"

Value of Reputation.

The value of reputation is almost cynically set forth by the case of a young literary man whose rejected story came back to him from a great publishing house with a few words of praise qualified by the declaration that it showed traces of the amateur. Encouraged by this he set to work and produced a novel. This he sent to the same house, and it was accepted. It succeeded, and the young author soon afterward sold to the same publisher the rejected story at double the price he had originally asked.

Rev. T. S. Oadams will lecture at the Court street church tonight.

LITTLE BOY KILLED BY HIS PLAYMATE.

BYRON STREET'S DEATH INVESTIGATED BY POLICE

Miss Annie Wynne Says Byron and Henry Morse Were Talking Over a Game of Cards When the Deadly Weapon Was Discharged—District Attorney Notified.

It was at the hands of little Henry Morse that Byron Street met his death last night.

Such is the story of Annie Wynne, a visitor who saw the whole proceeding.

Miss Wynne is a domestic in the employ of F. S. Winslow and had gone to Morse house to get a dress fitted. The children she says, were playing cards with nails for money when a pause came and young Morse went out and got the gun.

"What's that?" asked Street. "It's a gun," said one of the children "but it can't hurt anybody because it isn't loaded."

Morse pushed the gun at street in play and pulled the trigger.

A report and a blinding flash followed and Street toppled to the floor.

Police Will Make an Investigation.

Miss Wynne was much frightened and hastened to Mr. Winslow and told her story. Mr. Winslow notified Chief Acheson this afternoon, and the matter was at once laid before District Attorney Wheeler.

The injured boy died at Oak Lawn hospital at 11:30 to-day. He was attended by Drs. James Mills and Joe Whiting. His forehead was punctured like a pepper box by the fine shot, and six shots penetrated the brain. The brain was oozing from little holes in the skull when Dr. Mills visited the patient this forenoon. Mrs. Ann Street, the boy's mother, is a widow living at 54 North street. She is sick, and she and her little children are cared for by the city. About a year ago she was married for the second time, but her husband left town, and the family are in very poor circumstances.

BEGIN TO BE AFRAID OF THE PETITION.

ASHTON MURDER CASE DEVELOPS ANOTHER SENSATION

People Who Signed the the Appeal for a New Trial Are in Doubt as to Whether the Act Is Not Contempt of Court—The Will Contest Before Judge Sale.

"Will signers of the Ashton petition be in contempt of court?" was a question frequently asked today.

Some who put their names to the paper were anxious and sought legal advice.

"I haven't read the petition, but if it says that the verdict was not justified by the evidence and seeks to exert influence upon the court in that way it would clearly be contempt," said one attorney. Others expressed similar views, although saying that no such question had ever been tried in the state.

"Whether it were contempt or not," said a friend of the defendant, "there need never be any fear of legal proceedings. It would mean the arrest of two hundred people and that is rather a big contract."

There is an understanding among some who signed the petition that the paper is not presented to the circuit court, and that the question of contempt will therefore be avoided. The idea is that the petition will be of great value in securing a pardon in case the courts should refuse a new trial.

The bearing of the murder trial upon the will contest is now the subject of discussion. Daniel Stone's $200,000 all went to Matthew Ashton. Jane Stone, the dead man's sister; Oscar Stone and D. J. Armstrong, his nephews, and Mary J. Armstrong, his niece are contesting the will on the grounds of mental incompetency, undue influence and fraud. Ashton was on the stand two days early in January and was cross examined very carefully. Orson Cox and Ed F. Carpenter witnesses to the will were also examined and the case was then continued until February 6.

WILCOX BLOCK.

SOMEWHAT HUMOROUS.

Not So Stupid as He Looks.
 Jane—You seem to be unhappy, Emma.
 Emma—Yes, I have been deceived in my husband. When I married him I supposed that it was not my money but myself that he loved.
 "And now you have found out that it was not you at all, but only your money he was after."
 "Alas! That is what I know now for a certainty."
 "Well, there is one consolation for you, and that is that your husband is not as stupid as he looks."—Alex E. Sweet.

Point of View.
 "I have no use for that neighbor of yours," said the traveler who was putting up for two weeks in a country town and making himself popular by running down some of the neighbors. "I have no use for him. What do you think of a man that eats pie for breakfast, anyway?"
 "It's sinful worldliness!" chorused the people around the hotel-room fire. "It's indulging the weaknesses of the flesh!"—Chicago Record.

Couldn't Get Him.
 "Feller tried to git me terday," grinned the old man.
 "How?"
 "Wanted me to sign a note—but, Lordy, how I did fool him."
 "How so?"
 "I writ my name on the back uv it, stid er signin' it, an' blame me, the idiot ain't foun' it out yet."—Washington Star.

His Hedging Time.
 Backward, turn backward,
 O Time, in thy flight;
 Make me a boy again
 At this hour each night.
 Then forward I care not
 How swiftly you roll
 If I can escape
 Bringing up the night's coal.
 —Chicago Inter Ocean.

Tommy's Curiosity.
 Tommy (to Dudely Canesucker)—Why don't you stand on one leg when you come here?
 Dudely Canesucker—Why, what a queer question!
 Tommy—Well, Sister Alice said that you are a regular goose, and all the geese I ever saw stood on one leg.—Texas Siftings.

"The Same."
 Lawyer—You were in the bar at the time of the event complained of?
 Witness—Yes, sir.
 Lawyer—Did you take cognizance of the bartender at the time?
 Witness—I don't know what he called it, but I took what the rest did.
 —Boston Globe.

Catarrh Is Too Head.
 Is undoubtedly a disease of the blood and as such only a reliable blood purifier can effect a perfect and permanent cure. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier, and it has cured many very severe cases of catarrh. Catarrh oftentimes leads to consumption. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla before it is too late.

OF SOME USE.

Old Gotrox (to his fashionable son)—You and your set thoroughly disgust me. You could get along as well without a head as with one.
 Algy—Aw—fawther—how wediculous! Why, wheah would a fellah weah his hat?—Puck.

A Modern Nimrod.
 Choppes—What can I do for you this morning?
 Nimrod—I am going hunting and want a dozen quail, a brace of partridge and a rabbit or two.
 Choppes—They shall be ready for you this afternoon.
 Nimrod—Thanks! And, I say, can I leave my gun here?—Hullo.

To Start the Ball Rolling.
 Tom—How can you hope to marry a girl to whom you have not yet been introduced?
 Jack—I'm going to have a story printed that we are soon to be married and then go around to the newspapers and deny it.—Truth.

Two Kinds of Birds.
 Critic—I tell you what it is, Mr. McDaub, those ostriches are simply superb. You shouldn't paint anything but birds.
 Artist (disgusted)—Those are not ostriches. They are angels!—Life.

At the Theater.
 Will—Say, Jack, how much did you pay for these seats?
 Jack—Six dollars and a half.
 Will—Well, next time let's save our money and go to a milliner's opening.
 —Boston Beacon.

A Shakespearean Lay.
 He named his laying hen Macduff, And when at early dawn She cackled loud, he cried in glee: "Lay on, Macduff, lay on!"
 —Detroit Free Press.

He Couldn't Say.
 Willis—Whose umbrella is that you have?
 Wallace—How in thunder do I know? It is one Smith borrowed from you.—Music and Drama.

The greatest worm destroyer on earth is Dullam's German Worm Lozenges, only 25 cents per box. For sale by Palmer & Stevens.

A. Golden, druggist, Birmingham, Ala., writes: "Please publish some of the testimonials I have sent you for Japanese Pile cure." Sold at Smith's pharmacy.

TO MISS JANET STEER.

True, you're not an Ellen Terry—No one ever said you were. People would be foolish, very, You with Ellen to compare. Nor an Ada Rehan are you, Nor a Mrs. Bernard-Beebe: You are simply what we "par" you in the papers—Janet Steer.

And, as such, a decent actress, Playing "this side up with care." Not the Drama's benefactress—That is neither here nor there. No phenomenon dramatic—That is neither there nor here. Not a triumph too emphatic—Simply, solely Janet Steer.

Janet Steer, as such I greet you: Not too good, but good enough. Janet, I am pleased to meet you—In you there is worthy stuff. Grace is mingled with your action; Tuneful is your voice, and clear. Add to this the great attraction In your features, Janet Steer.

Comedy should always keep you—Smiles and tears become you well. When you smile or when you weep, you Never roar or never yell. Janet, you are sweet and clever, Persevering and sincere; And, though you should never, never Meet with fame (despite endeavor), I shall bear in mind forever Janet's smile and Janet's tear!
 —The Call Boy, in London Judy.

CRICKET.

Alexander McPherson, who has been playing with Chicago clubs during the past three seasons, will leave shortly for Australia.

The club house of the Germantown club of Philadelphia has a theater as one of its attractions.

A movement was started some time ago in the Belmont club of Philadelphia to change the colors of the organization. The majority of the members, who remember the pretty uniform of the Irish Gentlemen team, wish to have a dark green, which they think would also be a compliment to the popular veteran, Capt. John P. Greene.

At the annual meeting of delegates from clubs in the Massachusetts Cricket association, at Boston, recently, the following officers were elected for 1894: J. M. Richardson, Somerville, president; William Smith, Boston, vice-president; John Lessev, Lynn, secretary and treasurer.

SPORTING NOTES.

The New York baseball club has decided to reissue the $35,000 bonds, instead of canceling them.

A movement is on foot to organize a dual league for track athletes between Princeton and Pennsylvania universities.

Manager Quinn has made Pitcher Haddock an offer, which the latter has declined. He will probably sign with Cleveland.

During a sparring bout Porter Scott and Silas Taft, amateurs, at Des Moines, Iowa, Scott, in dodging a blow, slipped and fell to the floor. He struck heavily on his skull, dying fifteen minutes later from concussion of the brain.

W. H. Thompson, the "Duke of Gloucester," has leased for fifteen years the Queens County Driving park at Maspeth, L. I. Thompson intends to give a midsummer meeting on the track at the dates generally held by the Morimouth Park association.

February 10 to 20 a grand international sport exhibition will be held in the Crystal Palace, at Amsterdam, Holland, under the auspices of the Club Amsterdam's Wielrigders Bond-slokaal. It will embrace every manufacture, production or article connected with sport, in full size and in models.

The Complexion of a Chinese

Is not yellower than that of an unfortunate individual whose liver complaint has assumed the chronic form. The eyeballs of the sufferer assume a saffron hue, there is dull pain in the region of the organ affected, the tongue is coated, he hath sour, sick headaches usually but not always occur, and there is sometimes dizziness arising from a sitting posture. Constipation and dyspepsia are also attendants of this very common ailment, always in its aggravated form, liable to breed abscesses of the liver, which are very dangerous. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters wholly eradicates it, as well as the troubles connected with it and which it originates. In chills and fever, a complaint which always yields to the Bitters, the liver is seriously involved. This fine alternate tonic removes coarseness and impaction, rheumatic, nervous and kidney trouble and debility.

Late Arrivals.

Many new goods arrived at Wheelock's too late to open for the holiday trade. Whole packages of French China from Haviland's factory, of Wheelock's own importation, are just in. Call and look them over. The prices will be right. Also, new cut glasses, silverware, and new fancy pieces. Try MacBeth's lead glass chimneys.

Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with douches, snuffs, powders or astringents, because they are irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who had for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can inflict testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm. Your druggist has it.

He Didn't Feel Sure.
 He was pretty well along in years and had a laugh which was as cheery as it was ingenious.

"So you want to do chores for me," said the man on whom he had called. "Deed I does."
 "Well—I don't know. You look as if you were honest."
 "Kernel, I'll tell yer de troof 'bout dat."

"Go ahead."
 "Well, yuh see, I specks I's puff-uckly hones", but I tain't be sho."
 "Why not?"
 "Ain' had 'nuff 'sperience. I'se wifstood wahtahmillions all right 'nuff, but I nebbur yit had no face ter face temptations wid chickens."—Washington Star.

COLD IN THE HEAD relieved instantly by one application of Birney's Catarrh Powder

Sold everywhere by druggists or direct by us. HON. A. M. Post, Judge Supreme Court, Neb., writes: "I have used Dr. Birney's Catarrh Powder personally and in my family for several months, and find it the best remedy I have ever used. I can cheerfully recommend it to anyone afflicted with catarrh of the throat, nose, or eyes. Truly yours, A. M. Post."

REV. FATHER CLARK, S. J., to the Rt. Rev. Bishop of Columbus, Ohio, writes:

"Gentlemen:—I cannot say enough for your Powder. It has cured me of a long-continued attack of catarrh when nothing else could help me. Am delighted with it. All my friends to whom I administered samples are quite enthusiastic over it. The cold Stomach speaks most encouragingly of its use of it in the hospital under their care. I will discontinue to speak a good word for this really helpful medicine where suffering. Yours with many thanks, Rev. Father Clarke."

His Excellency Ex-Gov. J. K. Boyd, of Neb., writes:

"Gentlemen:—I have used your Catarrh Powder personally and in my family for some time, and find it gives instant relief in colds in the head and Catarrh of the throat. I can cheerfully recommend it as an efficient and pleasant remedy. Yours with many thanks, M. E. Ferguson."

Very truly yours, M. E. Ferguson, Custodian U.S. Appraiser's Stores, Chicago, Ill.

Gentlemen:—Being almost entirely deaf for a number of years past and getting no relief from many so-called cures which I used, was induced by a friend to try Dr. Birney's Catarrh Powder for my deafness. Have recovered my hearing entirely, so that I can now hear a watch tick plainly, it being held 18 inches from my ear. I look upon it as a positive cure for deafness and have recommended its use to many of my friends and can say I have never heard of a case where it has failed to relieve. Thankfully yours, M. E. Ferguson."

WARM WRAPS FOR COLD WEATHER.

WARM WINTER WRAPS AND FURS
PROVIDED FOR A SEVERE SEASON.

Furs That Find Favor—Capes and Jackets
Give the Predominating Styles—There Are Also Long Wraps That Envelop the Entire Figure.

Winter wraps and furs are the principal objects of attraction now. It was prognosticated long ago that this winter would prove a very severe one, and fur is consequently much worn for trimming and adorning dresses and mantles of thick stuffs, as also for separate garments.

Black furs have given way in a measure to brown and lighter kinds. The costly ermine and Russian sable take the first rank. They are followed by French sable, stone martin, the pole and civet. Shaggy long haired yellow lynx and gold bear are used for wide mantle trimmings. Astrakhan, beaver and other give the foundations for elegant capes and jackets trimmed with lighter fur.

Very small collars finished at each end with the head and tail of the sable worn in winter will take the place of boas in season, both for the theater and the street. Most distinctive fringes are made of sable tails, while the head of the same animal forms a button clasp for mantles and hat and bonnet ornamentations. Capes and jackets give the predominating styles for outdoor garments, many of the capes being cut short and all at the edge. The collars of such capes are often high and fluted, but free from all exaggeration. Capes for general wear are made of all lengths in plain fancy cloth, with collar and border fur and a trimming of several rows of ermine braid, while for carriage and riding wear there are long and short ermines of colored velvet, made quite in except for a handsome collar, with a boa ends of bearskin, or a pointed under cape and border of ermine.

Jackets are considered the most becoming garments for young ladies. They are either half or three-quarter long, have loose double breasted fronts, full basques or skirts and large sleeves, falling in easy folds over the dress sleeves. There is, however, no real resemblance in the different models, for there is no want of variety either in color or ornamentation. The favorite hues are tan, beaver, brown and several shades of fawn. Hand-some revers, collars and small fluted shoulder capes of the same stuff or fur give the prettiest finishes; yet jackets with short double and triple shoulder capes and berths of cloth edged with fur and rows of braid may also be observed. Every woman who can afford it of course wants a sealskin garment of some kind, as the sealskin is proof against the coldest of weather. The fashions in these and other all fur wraps are the same as prevails in cloth wraps. It is a good plan, by the way, when one desires a pretty style, to look first at the expensive fur wraps, as these usually illustrate the most desirable shapes, then search for that same shape in less expensive material. When one can wait until after the holidays, before buying a winter wrap, it will be found an excellent time in which to secure a good bargain. Cloaks, capes, jackets and all kinds of furs are then reduced at least one-third, and sometimes more in price.

Things Women Ought to Know.

Horseshadish added to pickles or to the spiced vinegar which is used over pickles will prevent a white scum from forming on them.

When mucilage becomes thickened by evaporation, it can be made as good as new by adding vinegar to moisten.

Try thin slices of pork on the breast of a turkey or chicken when it is roasting. Chemists say that it takes twice as much sugar to sweeten preserves, sauces, etc., if put in when they begin to cook as it does to sweeten them after the fruit is cooked.

A box of powdered borax should always be kept on the sink shelf. A little added to the water in which dish towels are washed will help much.

Low Rates To Coast Points.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Co., will sell round trip, first class tickets, good to return until April 30, 1894, at $91.25, for San Francisco and other California coast points; also with same limit, round trip, first class tickets for Portland, Oregon and north Pacific coast points at $79.55. For one way rates call at the ticket office, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul R'y.; also for all points south and east.

WRECK ON A CURVE DID MUCH DAMAGE.

TWO ST. PAUL TRAINS CAME TOGETHER THIS MORNING.

Thirteen Freight Cars and Two Engines Wrecked and a Quantity of Live Stock Killed—Train Crew Jumped and Escaped—Conductor Disregarded His Orders.

St. Paul trains didn't roll into Janesville on time this morning. They couldn't.

The managers of the road had failed to provide them with balloon attachments so that they could rise and fly over the tops of thirteen wrecked freight cars and two engines. The managers had also neglected to make arrangements so two trains could pass each other on the same track.

Conductor A. D. Evans and Engineer Connell left Janesville at 5:17 o'clock this morning with the fourth section of a freight train all "empties." The orders they received here were to meet another freight train at Milton Junction. The orders were disregarded and they met a mile above the "Edgerton bridge. There is only one track at that point and when the two trains came together there was a crash that made the farmers forget their corn husking.

Collided On a Grade Curve.

The south bound trains had the right of way and were steaming down grade at a good rate of speed expecting to meet Evan's train at the junction. As they came around the curve the engineer saw that Evans had come to meet him. Both engineers whistled for brakes and then jumped. Conductor and brakeman followed suit and saw the two trains came together from points of safety. Both locomotives were wrecked but remained up on the rails. Thirteen cars were smashed. The south bound train was loaded with stock and merchandise and several animals were killed. The two cars next to the engine were not broken and remained on the rails while the cars behind them were broken and some had even run up even with the engine on both sides. Wrecking crews were immediately put to work, while passengers were transferred around the wreck. Trains from the north did not get to Janesville until eleven o'clock.

Old Grudge Causes Murder.

HANCOCK, Mo., Jan. 30.—Yesterday afternoon John Decker shot and instantly killed J. M. Dunkin. Decker is a son of one of the wealthiest farmers in Pulaski county and Dunkin was a prominent merchant in this place. Former trouble and an old grudge led to the above result.

A Hard Nut to Crack.

A professor of logic who was not particularly lucid in his distinctions, was on one occasion endeavoring to substantiate that "an article remains the same notwithstanding the substitution of some of its parts." A young student held up his knife and inquired: "Suppose I should lose the blade of this knife, and should get another one inserted in its place, would it be the same knife it was before?" "To be sure," replied the professor. "Well, then," the student went on, "suppose I should lose the handle and get another, would it be the same knife still?" "Of course," the professor replied. "But if somebody should find the old blade and the old handle and put them together, what would that knife be?" The professor's answer is not recorded.

Help for the Pariahs.

The Rev. T. B. Pandisu, a Hindoo, who has embraced Christianity, is endeavoring to arouse sympathy in England for the Pariahs, outcasts of Southern India. They number over 8,000,000, and although entirely free by law, are forbidden by the caste men to drink pure water. They are, therefore, compelled to go miles to get water, and in practice most of the Pariahs drink only the dirty water left in furrows and pools in fields or jungle.

Wreckers Trap the Wrong Train.

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 30.—A scheme to wreck the fast mail on the Norfolk & Western road near Radford yesterday failed of its purpose, and instead a freight was thrown off the track. The freight was a special and was running nearly on the time of the fast train, which was late. It was moving slowly when it ran into the trap, which was so cunningly and carefully set that it would have killed everybody on board the fast train.

An exploding lamp covered John Mawby, an invalid, with oil and he was burned to death at Cleveland, Ohio.

A Natural Sequence.

The outgrowth of intelligent and persistent effort ought to be success. We are not the creatures of fancy—the sport and prey of every stormy wind that blows. Good buying, close selling, energetic advertising, and polite and honest treatment, will make and hold trade. That's why we have earned and maintain our present position.

Advertising is not without its alloy, any more than gold or silver ore. Pass a statement through the sieve of public opinion—you'll find that nine-tenths of the dross has been filtered out and only the truth has left a permanent impression on the minds of the people. Every store, like an individual, has its friends and enemies. We value our store friends highly, but don't gauge our facilities solely by what they say. Neither should you judge us by what others who are interested in a different direction say. Come yourself. No other eyes will serve you as faithfully as your own, and we are perfectly willing to rest our case on what your judgment and good sense see and recommend here.

A wise woman will not be taken in by one or two small articles being offered cheap—as a bait—but will look at the whole bill from start to finish to see if she is getting her money's worth. This is where this house catches the customer every time.

The Following is a recapitulation of all goods advertised this month of January, and can be bought at the same prices as long as they last:
